Subject: Intercept story about you two, and another one about toxicology of Gen X. Congratulations!!

Hi Andy and Mark,

Congratulations on now being world famous ☺ Seriously, it's great that your important research is featured in this article that is sure to be widely read!!!

This second one discusses toxicology data for the DuPont GenX chemical used as a replacement for PFOA. However, there are no links to the toxicology studies themselves, which are unpublished. Without seeing the data, I really do not know how much to make of the conclusions in this story. I would be very interested in seeing it for myself...
